

LLM Series™

Automated Tagging Systems

FEATURES

- Attach from one to three tags at once
- Fastener and tag sets feed automatically
- Simplifies and speeds up the tagging process

LLM Taggers dramatically increase post-press productivity by attaching up to three product tags of varying sizes to a wide variety of items, including T-shirts, caps, socks, towels, sweatshirts, and sweatpants. Since barb and tag sets feed automatically, the LLM is ready when the operator loads the next item, allowing the operator to concentrate on positioning the item on the LLM and then stacking it after tagging. User-friendly design and simplicity of operation make them the ideal tool for unskilled workers.

On the LLM III, for example, a price tag, a product information tag, and a cleaning instruction tag can be automatically fed—in any order—onto the needle before being attached to the garment with a fastener (barb). When only one tag is required, the LLM II & LLM III allow the operator to stock each tag feeder with a different tag, making it possible to quickly change from one item to another by toggling the appropriate tag feeder. When only one tag is required, the operator can stock each feeder with the same tag. The speed, efficiency, and flexibility of LLM Taggers can produce a dramatic increase in operator productivity, and provide an exceptionally rapid return on investment.

All LLM Taggers feature large capacity tag feeders, self-adjusting magazines, and ergonomic tilt tables that easily adjust for maximum operator comfort. The LLM I can be upgraded to an LLM II simply by adding another tag feeder. All models are driven by air pressure and do not require electricity. LLM Taggers are backed by a one-year limited warranty and a 24-hour hotline staffed 365 days a year. Engineered for dependable performance and low maintenance, they're ideal for demanding high-production environments.
